 ProLink Staffing does not currently have a SIEM and have discovered they now need one as they move toward the crowd to build an end-to-end security solution that will include leveraging a security information and event management solution. The company is Microsoft first, and while hardening their security posture want to be efficient and cost-conscious. Due to this, they have chosen the Defend Against Threats Workshop to begin planning to leverage Sentinel as well as other security products.	 ProLink Staffing have chosen to start with the Defend Against Threats with SIEM Plus XDR Workshop to learn about security practices and plan their project as soon as possible to start realizing some of the benefits within the Microsoft portfolio.	 eGroup Enabling Technologies are just beginning the workshop. ProLink Staffing are eager to learn about different security practices to help add additional security and road mapping for future projects. The goal as a trusted advisor to ProLink Staffing is for this workshop to lead to additional licensing and use of Azure.	Partner Tucker Frey, Account Executive Matt Hannan, Inside Sales Rep Chris Stegh, CTO + VP of Strategy
